HG Laboratories, LLC (Nature's Laboratory)

It's important for you to have a clean house and a clean business, but is it also important to you to have a clean environment.

Over twenty-five years of experience formulating and providing cleaning products to the marketplace has positioned HG Laboratories to offer all-natural, earth-friendly cleaning products to the households of America.

Our cleaners were born out of a desire to help families keep their homes clean and fresh and more importantly, safe. The research and development of this cleaning technology took many years but it has now yielded products that perform equal to or better than the toxic, harsh cleaners popular today.

The essential oils we use in each product refresh your home while giving you an aromatherapy lift.

We are
KY Proud Certified!
